

Johanna M. Ullrich
johannamullrich@gmail.com
www.archaeologicalphosphates.com

20 Crans Road
Flat 6, 42 Brighton Road

Middletown, NY 10941
Rathgar, Dublin 6, Ireland

845-692-7498
011-353-87-226-2369

Education:

- Ph.D, Archaeology 2010, University College Dublin (UCD), Dublin, Ireland
Specialization: geoarchaeology, phosphate analysis
- MA, Archaeology 2007, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY
- BA, Archaeology 2005, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY

Skills:

- Well versed in archaeological field and laboratory methodologies
- Working knowledge of NHPA Section 106 requirements
- Accomplished in environmental and geoarchaeological investigations
- Experienced in pre and post excavation processes
- Skilled in teaching, lecturing and presenting at the collegiate and professional levels
- Proficient in Microsoft Office software suite, and form-Z mapping software

Archaeological Fieldwork Experience:

- Fall 2010, Spring 2011, Summer 2002-January 2004 part-time- Archaeological Principle Investigator (6 months), Environmental Field Technician (12 months)
Alpine Environmental Consultants: Orange County, NY
- Summer 2008, Summer 2003- Environmental Specialist (3 months), Field Excavation (3 months) Achill Archaeological Field School, Ireland: Slievemore, Co. Mayo, late Medieval and post Medieval village site
- Summer 2007- Supervisor of Excavation (3 months), Achill Archaeological Field School, Ireland: Slievemore, Co. Mayo, prehistoric roundhouse site
- Fall 2006, Fall 2005, Fall 2004- Crew Chief (8 months), Crew Member (4 months)
Cornell University: Enfield Falls, NY, pre Civil War village site
- Spring-Summer 2001, January 2002- Archaeological Field Technician (6 months),
BTK Associates: Orange County, NY

Laboratory and Museum Experience:

- Summer 2008, Summer 2004- Laboratory Supervisor and Instructor (1 month) and Technician (3 months), Achill Archaeological Field School Laboratory
- Spring 2007, Spring 2006, Fall 2006, Spring 2005, Spring 2004- Laboratory Supervisor and Instructor (8 months), Technician (8 months), Student (4 months),
Cornell University Historical Archaeology Laboratory
- Spring 2007- Organization and fabrication of display cases (4 months), Cornell University: Enfield Falls Mill Museum

Geoarchaeology Experience:

- Fall 2011, Spring 2011- Phosphate analysis for the Boyne River Landscape Project at the UNESCO World Heritage Site, Neolithic henge sites and early Medieval enclosure sites, UCD School of Archaeology
- Summer 2011- Geophysical and geochemical survey for Glendalough Field School, earth resistance, magnetometer and phosphate survey, UCD School of Archaeology

- Summer 2011- Phosphate analysis for the Dunsinane 3 Excavation, Neolithic house site, Thames Valley Archaeological Services, Ltd
- Summer 2010- Phosphate analysis for the French Azilum (Bradford County PA) Research Project, 1793-1803 village site, Cornell University
- Summer 2010- Phosphate analysis for the Slievemore Prehistoric Landscape Research Initiative, Bronze Age roundhouse site, Achill Archaeological Field School
- Fall- Summer 2009, Fall-Summer 2008- Phosphate analysis for Western Ireland Promontory Fort Project, UCD School of Archaeology
- Fall 2006- Phosphate analysis for Enfield Falls Research Project, Cornell University

Relevant Publications:

- 2012 (Forthcoming) Geochemistry, Archaeology and Reinterpreting Promontory Forts. In Archaeological Review from Cambridge 27.1
- 2012 (Forthcoming) Assessing Interior and Exterior Divisions of Space using Phosphate Patterning. In Assemblage 12
- Spring 2011 Utility and Symbolism on Achill Island Promontory Forts: Gubadon and Dun Bunnafahy. In Achill Archaeological Field School 20th Anniversary Monograph
- Fall 2010 Geochemical Contributions to the Archaeological Examination of French Azilum, In French Azilum: Crossroads of Revolutions, M. Costura, Cornell University
- Fall 2010 The Application of Phosphate Analysis Techniques on an Irish Coastal Monument Complex. In Proceedings of the Association of Young Irish Archaeologists Conference 2010

Relevant Teaching Experience:

University College Dublin

- Fall 2011: TA for ARCH 20100 Archaeological Fieldwork
- Spring 2011: Supervisor for MA students in Environmental Archaeology
- Fall 2010: TA for ARCH20070 Environmental Archaeology

National University of Ireland, Galway and the Achill Archaeological Field School

- Summer 2010: Instructor of a 3-day workshop on phosphate analysis
- Summer 2007: Co-lecturer for SU409 Introduction to Irish Archaeology
Co-lecturer for SU410 Archaeological Field Studies

Cornell University

- Spring 2007: Created and led a 10-day field school under ARKEO 300 Independent Study
- Fall 2006: TA for LA 261 Urban Archaeology
Grader for NES 268 Ancient Egyptian Civilization
- Spring 2006: TA for LA 262 Lab in Landscape Archaeology
- Fall 2005: TA for LA 261 Urban Archaeology

Relevant Guest Lecture and Presentation Experience:

- Summer 2011: The Achill Field School 20th Anniversary Conference, Co. Mayo, Ireland
- Spring 2011: The Institute of Archaeologists of Ireland Conference, Dublin, Ireland
- Spring 2011: The Society for Historical Archaeology Conference, Austin, TX
- Spring 2010: The Association of Irish Archaeologists Conference, Galway, Ireland
- Spring 2010: The Association of Young Irish Archaeologists Conference, Cork, Ireland
- Fall 2008: ARCH 30110 Geoarchaeology, UCD School of Archaeology, Dublin, Ireland